Romulus' loss

Teen's good deed ends in death

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus lost one of its best and brightest young citizens last Thursday morning, when 19-year-old Greg Walker was shot to death after being robbed by a man he was trying to help.

According to reports, Walker was driving his date home following a family get-together when, on Hughes Street between Inverness and Log Cabin in Detroit, he and the girl spied a man, apparently injured, lying on the side of the road. It was 3:10 a.m.

Walker stopped the car, got his fellow man led directly to his death.

According to a spokesman for the family, Walker's older brother, Dwight, has been married the previous Saturday and on Wednesday night, members gathered together for a last night together before the resumption of school. Greg was to return to Eastern Michigan University, where he was a dental student. Others were going to different colleges.

The party broke up after 2 a.m., when Greg left to drive his girlfriend home. His family never saw him alive again.

"Greg was so very good-hearted," said his mother, that Greg had helped along, cutting their grass for them or doing odd jobs. And he never bragged about it, just did it because he was such a fine boy."

According to his mother, Greg had displayed interest in becoming a dentist since he was very young.

"He never said he wanted to do the usual things kids say they want to do when they grow up, like drive a fire engine or be a policeman. He just wanted to be a dentist," she said.

Walker, who graduated from Romulus High School last year was, according to his mother, a "very hard-working student, very industrious and very popular with his classmates."

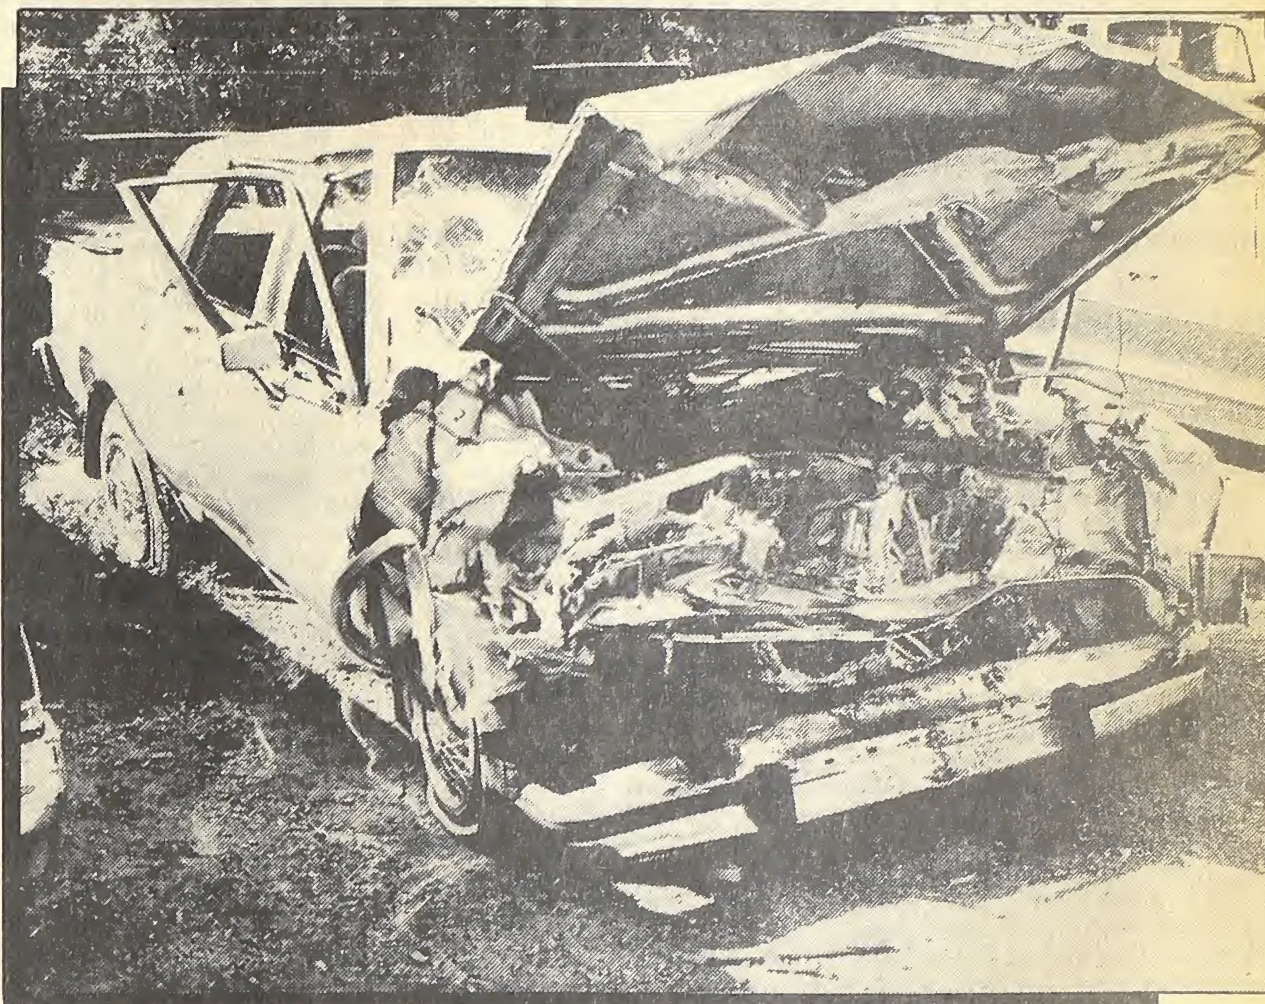

This is illustrated by the fact that last year, on student government day, Walker was elected "mayor for a day" by his peers, and performed those duties with then-mayor William Oakley. In addition, Walker played trumpet in the school band, ran track in high school and at Eastern, and, according to his family, "loved to sing in the choir at the church," the First Baptist Church of Romulus, and was very active in Christian Youth Fellowship.

Walker was helping pay his way through college by working as a clerk at University Hospital in Ann Arbor, and had previously worked at Bilmar's Supermarket in Romulus.

Bilmar's owner and Chamber of Commerce President Bill Simonds recalled that "Greg was a very pleasant young man; he always had a smile on his face. He started out as a bag carrier and worked his way up to cashier/clerk. He was an outstanding person, no doubt about it."

Walker is survived by his mother and father, Sharon and Blanchard Walker, two brothers, Dwight and Dwayne, and one sister, Denise. Greg was the youngest of the children. Services were held Monday.

The gunman was described as about 20, 6-foot tall, about 170 pounds with a medium-dark complexion. Detectives said Monday that they do have some leads.

The remains of the two cars involved in the freeway accident last Wednesday morning are evidence of the high speeds the automobiles were traveling. There were no survivors.

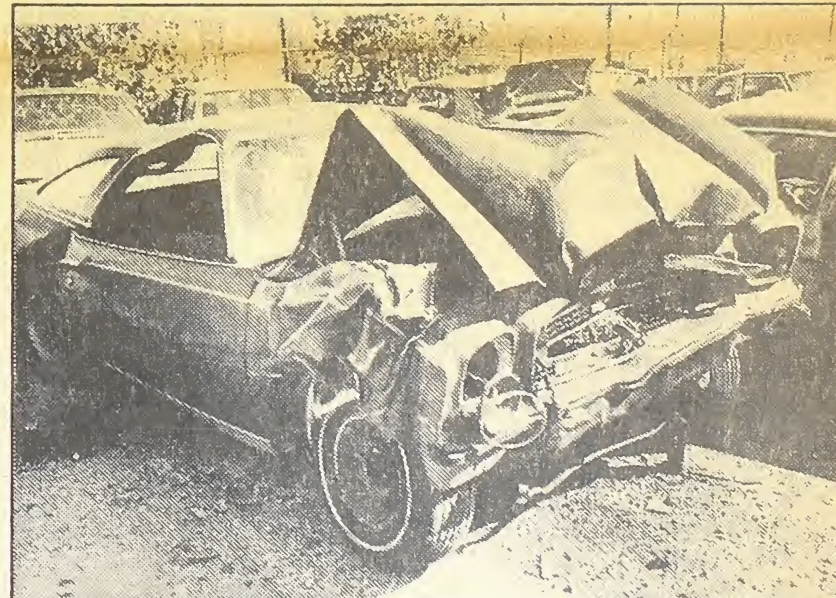

Head-on freeway collision claims three motorists

An accident on I-94 near Merriman Road in Romulus claimed three lives early last Wednesday morning.

According to police, a man driving a 1973 Chevrolet was driving in the wrong direction — going westbound in the east-bound lane — and ran head-on into a 1983 Chrysler which was carrying two men. All three were killed in the crash.

Police said the Chevrolet was driven by Charles Leonard Payne, 45, of Taylor. The other victims were identified as Howard Moran, 46, and Booker T. Williams, 44, both of Detroit. It is believed that the two Detroit men worked at Kelsey-Hayes in Romulus and had just gotten off of their shift and were heading home. Their time cards indicated they had punched out at 4 a.m.

Employees at Kelsey-Hayes personnel division had no comment other than to say "we are divulging no information on that."

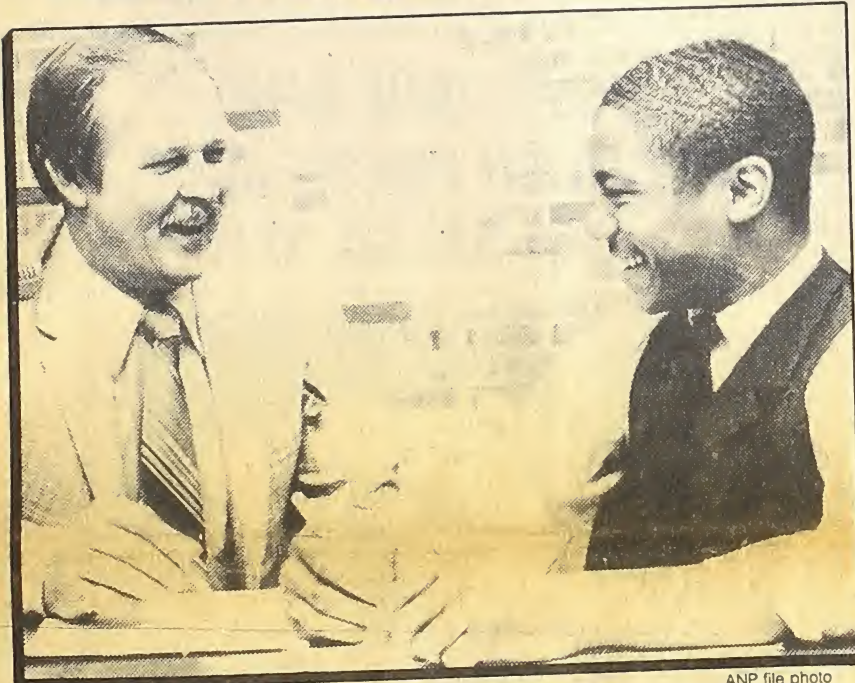

"They were hit directly head-on by Payne," said Romulus Detective Sam Chalton, "or at least it looks like it, because there were no skid marks around the area."

According to Chalton, there were witnesses to the accident.

"One person told me that (Payne's) car narrowly missed him, that he swerved and the oncoming car missed him by inches and crashed into the vehicle behind him."

An autopsy is being done to determine if alcohol played a part in the tragedy.

out and went over to him to see if he needed help. As he approached, the man allegedly sat up, holding a rifle he had been concealing by lying on top of it. Walker was told to hand over his wallet. He did and was then ordered to lie face-down on the ground. Again he complied. The gun-wielding man then fatally shot Greg Walker through the back and fled.

Walker died in the emergency room at Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital shortly after.

Greg Walker's concern for Sharon, who works in the clerk's office at Romulus City Hall, "he was always trying to help people, that was his way."

"Romulus is the kind of community where the neighbors try to do things for one another, help each other out, and Greg was always first in line."

Greg's uncle, Frederick Payne, said the young man was widely known and liked in the neighborhood, more so than the family had even suspected.

Detroit Tiger fans — and who isn't these days? — in Romulus had some extra to cheer about last week as three Tigers (two present and one from the proverbial days of yore) signed autographs and talked a little baseball with fans at the Michigan Paraprofessional Training Institute on Smith Road. Present were

Juan Berenguer, who pitched his finest game of the year the next day, infielder Barbaro Garbey, and, from Tiger teams of the early '60s, infielder Chico Fernandez. Sean Hodges, 8, of Romulus gets Juan to autograph his Tiger yearbook, while those responsible for the event, Lee Ann Stotts

Huron police lauded

Two Huron Township police officers and one Michigan State Trooper have been commended by the Huron Township Police Department for displaying "extraordinary courage and judgement" in a potentially volatile situation.

Trooper Harold Reid and officers Thomas Koval and John Kaminski were called at 12:55 a.m. to the Waltz Tavern, responding to a call of a woman firing shots from a gun.

According to reports, the woman was "a distraught woman, 39 years old with suicidal tendencies. She had been drinking wine and had taken approximately 10 Valiums."

She was talking incoherently and several times pointed the gun at the officers, while begging them to shoot her. All of this took place in the parking lot of the bar.

Three men sought in rape incident

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

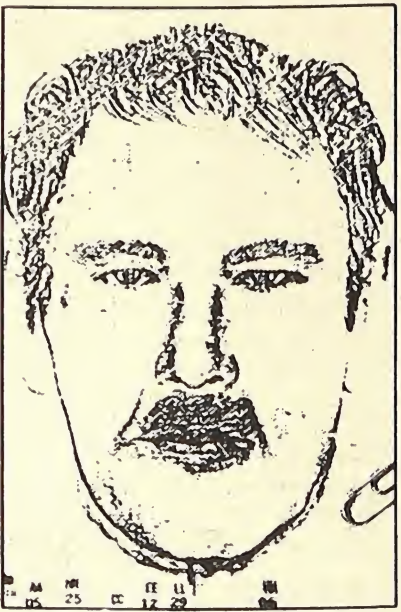

Van Buren police are investigating the sexual assault of a 22-year-old Taylor woman who was allegedly raped early Thursday morning by three members of a motorcycle gang in the township and later released in the city of Romulus.

'Bear' or 'Rob'

The victim reported to police that she was forced into a truck in the Ecorse Road and Telegraph area, taken to a secluded area and raped by the three men. She told police she believes that the three assailants are members of a motorcycle gang called "Iron Cross Motorcycle Club".

Police said the sexual assault took place near a cemetery on Denton Road.

'John'

"What we have been able to piece together," said Len Keller, Van Buren Police Chief, "is that the woman was abducted by her assailants while she was walking approximately 10:30 p.m. She was driven to the cemetery and sexually assaulted by the three

'Eric'

Van Buren police released sketches of the three men who are sought for questioning in last week's rape of a 22-year-old Taylor woman. Anyone who has any information should telephone Cpl. Dennis Brooks of the Van Buren Police Department at 699-8930.

Rules of the road: Mo-peds have their own set

This is the time of year when youngsters (and not-so-youngsters) hop on their Mopeds and buzz around the neighborhood. Most, however, are not aware of the dangers and rules that govern the riding of the vehicles.

According to Romulus Police Chief Donald Flood, "a Moped is a very dangerous vehicle, and when an inexperienced person gets on one they tend to be more concerned with the thrill of riding a powerized bike and don't bother to learn the rules of the road."

"A lot of the riders are ignorant of the licensing and state laws which regulate Mopeds and other recreational vehicles."

Some of the laws regarding these vehicles follow, as stated in the Michigan Motor Vehicle Code Book:

- Before operating a Moped on a highway a person must be at least 15 years old.
- The driver must have a special "restricted license" issued by the Secretary of State.
- A Moped must not carry more than one person at a time.

• A person operating a Moped may not carry any article which prevents the driver from keeping both hands on the handlebars.

• A person operating a Moped must keep as far to the right of the roadway as possible, using extreme caution when passing parked cars or vehicles moving in the same direction.

More information may be obtained by calling any office of the Secretary of State or the police department.

men."

Keller said the men were in a vehicle described by the victim as a dark green pick-up, possibly a club cab-type vehicle.

The victim was dropped off at a party store on Eureka Road in Romulus where she telephoned police for help. She was taken to Wayne County General Hospital for treatment and later released.

Police are circulating composite drawings of the three suspects. One of the suspects who possibly may be called "John" is about 28 to 30 years old, 6-foot-1, blondish brown wavy collar length hair, dark blue eyes and blonde mustache. The second suspect, who possibly is known as "Bear" or "Rob" is 6 feet 2, 270-pounds, brown hair and eyes, has crooked teeth and a chipped lower tooth. He has a tattoo on his left bicep.

The third suspect possibly known as "Eric", is about 19-years-old, 5 feet 10, 160 pounds, brown hair and eyes.

Anyone with any information about any or all of the suspects is urged to contact Cpl. Dennis Brooks at the Van Buren Police Department. Telephone 699-8930.

conversation for 10 minutes, they were still unable to get her to give up the weapon. After she pointed the loaded .30 caliber rifle at Officer Koval's stomach from less than three feet away, Officer Kaminski tackled her, allowing the officers to disarm her without serious damage being done.

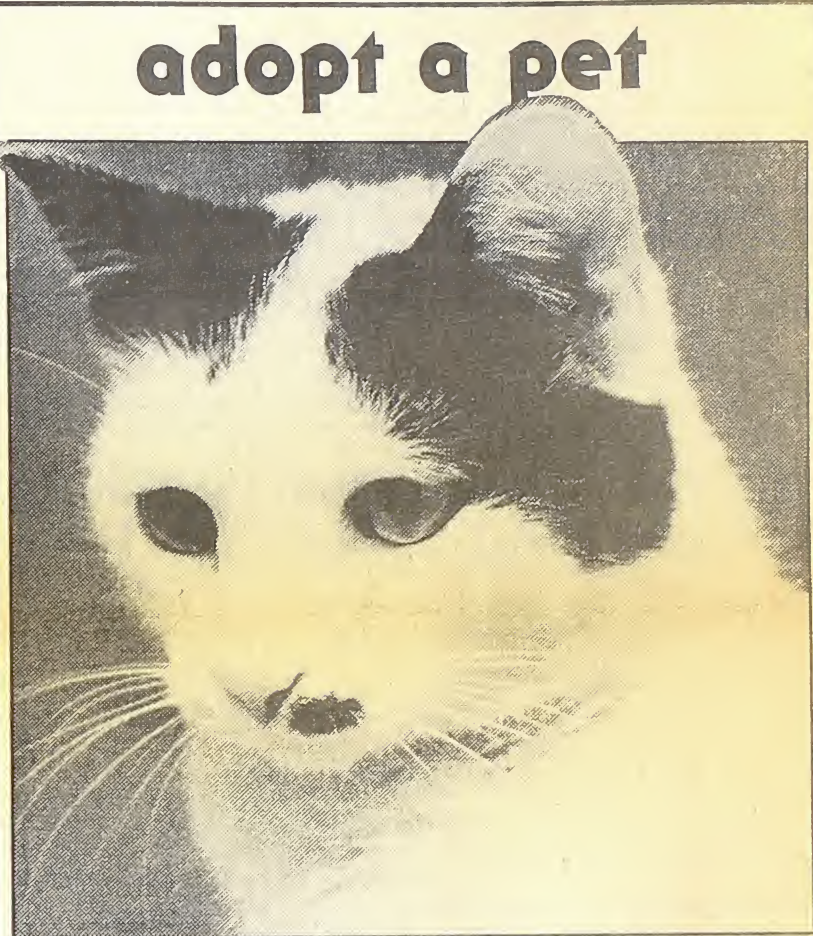

According to Huron Police Sgt. David Patterson, the men are "a credit to their department."

It's a bird, It's a plane, It's... flowers!

The 1984 Romulus Towers Patio Flower Contest was deemed a big success, according to Mayor Beverly McAnally, who should know, being one of the judges. Joining the mayor (left) as judges were Carol Bales and Geneve Dugan. The winners were first prize, Bert and Margaret Gilbert; second prize, Maxine Goachee; third prize, Thelma Harrison. Given "honorable mention" for their tomato plants were Jerome and Mary Dombkowski and Luvenia Holmes.

Support, not criticism, is needed

The Westland Parks and Recreation Department has a new director, its first permanent director since January, at which time the City Council chose not to confirm the mayor's appointment of Michael Mushett to that post, effective in September.

The new appointment is not new to the council, which reversed its stand on Mushett and confirmed his appointment last week. While the vote was different, the council's stand on the appointment had changed very little.

The council has been miffed at the council's disregard of their request that the position be advertised. It also has expressed concern about Mushett's lack of expertise in recreation management, since his forte for more than seven years has been in therapeutic recreation.

They maintain that department directorships should not be filled with persons in need of on-the-job training, that what the city needs now are qualified people, who can steer it along a course of recovery after three years of cutback after cutback.

We question the council's use of the phrase, "on-the-job training" in regard to Mushett. His leadership of the Tri-City Therapeutic Recreation Program was noteworthy. During his tenure as its supervisor, the program received two national awards in recognition of its excellence.

We wonder if the baseball owners used on-the-job training in considering Peter Ueberroth as their new baseball commissioner. After all, his most noted claim to fame is executive director of the Los Angeles Olympic Games Committee.

The council should not take lightly the two years Mushett invested as executive director of the International Games for the Disabled. It should not be looked upon as something akin to a family outing and a $2 million budget as a weekly allowance.

Granted, Mushett will have to prove himself capable of the parks and recreation directorship. It will be no easy task reviving a department that has been down for the eight count for many months. What is needed now is not statements about "political appointments" or "on-the-job training," but rather statements of support. Only with a combined effort of the administration, the council and Mushett will the recreation department regain its stature in the community.

We are confident that Mushett will be up to the task ahead. We wish him well and look forward to seeing a recreation department that rivals the best in Wayne County.

Modern heroes

The scene is Canton Township early Saturday afternoon, Aug. 25, 1984. There they are, dodging traffic, cleaning up the mess, attending to the victims.

Disgruntled citizens mumble about the time lost in their intended afternoon schedule as these dedicated souls take charge at the scene of a serious traffic accident — they tend to the parties involved in the collision, move heavy traffic around the scene with precision, sweep up the broken glass, assist the wreckers as they attempt to move the battered vehicles from the busy intersection — and then they speed off to their next assignment.

Somehow we don't seem to think of those who serve the safety needs of the people today as servants. The concept doesn't seem to fit the times in which we live. On the other hand, we hear little in business of the ideology that "The customer is always right," either.

Some would suggest there is an arrogance surrounding the performance of our "public servants" in their duties, specifically when it comes to dealing with police and fire fighters. How many times, in this business, do we hear the complaints about fire fighters sitting around the station, doing nothing, or working second jobs while in the employ of cities or townships?

There may be room for criticism in the performance of anyone in public office, or the business sector for that matter. But, consider the life-threatening role our safety servants, if you will, play out each day on the streets of our cities and towns. When was the last time you strapped an air support system tank on your back, a mask on your face and crawled into a burning building looking for someone overcome by smoke inhalation. "We're not sure if anyone is inside," the neighbors say — so in the fire fighters go.

Save the people, then save the property, that's what fire fighters do. If you or I did it, and saved a life, we'd be heroes, for them, it's just routine.

Fire fighters might well be called rescuers — because that's what they really do. They rescue people trapped in smashed autos, they rescue victims of heart attacks in their homes or at work — they rescue us from all manner of peril.

Sometimes they are summoned to save us from ourselves. Self-induced drug abuse incidents are usually not found in the most exclusive homes — and the victims rarely say thank you. High on drugs, the user threatens to kill the fire fighter there to save him if he so much as touches him. Often the fire fighter will have to spend valuable time talking the victim down before he can aid him — or physically subdue and restrain him to transport him to a hospital.

Police officers, on the other hand, work "normal" shifts. They only have to chase speeding cars, break up robberies in progress, attend to domestic disputes when summoned by family or neighbors. Sometimes they have to deal with screaming victims, and sometimes with silent bodies, twisted wreckage and traffic.

The list of traumas our safety servants are asked to preside over is endless. Yet, when the rescue unit passes by us every day on the way to save lives, we pay little attention, other than our own selfish annoyance because we have to move out of the way.

And then there are the police who only follow poor victims like us around — giving parking or speeding tickets when they should be catching crooks, right? Wrong! They get the killer drunks off the road, the reckless drivers and the hot rods.

I'm advocating big pay raises for all the police and fire fighters, right? No, I'm not saying that. There are limits on the public's ability to pay. What I am advocating is greater respect and admiration for those who risk their lives daily for us.

What is sometimes perceived as arrogance is a "take charge" attitude, necessary to get the job done — necessary to cut through the accumulation of idle gawkers at the scene of an accident and to ultimately, save lives.

I don't criticize either group for the negative vibrations citizens may occasionally get from their members. Yes, they have their over indulgences in union saber rattling and would seem, occasionally, to be a bit too cognizant of their own importance — but, perhaps if we were to give them the recognition

Prefers Wayne

To the Editor:

I have lived in several cities in my life-time — out of them all I prefer the City of Wayne.

I have lived in Springfield, Ill., Chattanooga, Tenn. — Memphis, Tenn. — Ypsilanti and Garden City. I have noticed several things about Wayne.

1) Your elected or appointed officials will find time to talk to you, if you so desire this privilege. They are busy — yet they will find time for you.

2) The Wayne police department is very active. As a pastor I am in different parts of the city — and I see police patrols constantly overseeing the public welfare. The officers are polite — and seem dedicated.

3) The Wayne Fire Department is probably one of the best around. I have been at the fire department when an emergency call has come in, and it was answered professionally. I will also say that the rescue squad, or the fire engine personnel, responded promptly, and with seriousness.

I also notice many of our elected officials along with community volunteers get out and help in needy fund raising events — I have seen policemen, firemen, city officials, and concerned citizens working hand in hand on the street corners selling good-fellow papers, so kids that are less fortunate will have Christmas at their house. They are also involved in other fund raising projects.

I have seen our city workers during a water main break work in below zero temperatures for hours to correct the problem, sometimes all night.

Our school system is good. As citizens we need to support our educators. They have a rough job. We should teach our children to learn at school and not be a discipline problem. I support discipline in the schools. If you want a good education for your children you should too. Schools are for learning.

To keep our city what it ought to be, don't be afraid to vote for millage increases. You have to pay for good elected and appointed officials.

You have to pay for good police and fire protection if you want it. You have to pay for a good education for your children and grandchildren. You have to pay for street, park and sidewalk maintenance, if you want good streets, good parks, and good sidewalks.

To keep Wayne — the burden belongs to us all, not just a few.

Thank God for your blessings — thank God for a good city to live in. Thank God for good schools — thank God for good fire and police depts. Thank God for your elected and appointed officials. Thank God for your churches.

You are a blessed people in this city. You don't have to go very far to see it. It is easy to be a critic, but lets work together forgiving one another and caring about one another.

Niemiec a coward?

To the Editor:

Regarding the August 15, 1984 editorial comments by Dennis Niemiec about my candidacy: I was shocked at the irresponsibility of these seemingly off-hand remarks. Your last full sentence: "Obviously he has struck a responsive nerve out there." — could have been the basis for responsible commentary on a very serious matter. You chose to do otherwise and as a result your qualifications as a journalist must be questioned.

You begin by insulting not only the 5,107 people who voted for me in the primary, but also, by extension, the 53,000 who voted for me in the 1980 general election.

You continue by belittling my program of Equal Rights for those of us with European Ethnic background. Perhaps you think that you have "made it" and now can turn your back on your own people.

And finally you write that the media has been "specific" in labelling me, among other things a "racist". Evidently, in your eyes, whatever the media says is absolutely true.

Well, let me be specific Mr. Niemiec: you are not only an irresponsible journalist, you are also insulting, anti-democratic and ignorant of the social and economic situation of your own people.

And further — you are a coward. You do not have the brains or the guts to face the Paying taxes can be great fun! Really. It's all a matter of perspective.

Ask a taxpayer to contribute another $50 a year to keep his school system solvent and the answer is likely to be "no." Ask a taxpayer to purchase at least one lottery ticket each week and the response invariably will be enthusiastically favorable.

But the lottery offers cash prizes, you say. What about all those instant millionaires? Legalized gambling turns all of us into dreamy-eyed Walter-Mittys; taxes have all the appeal of sickness.

Consider the addictive popularity of Michigan Lotto. Persons are standing in lines for the opportunity to participate in this latest Michigan Bureau of State Lottery extravaganza. Customers pick six numbers from one to 40 hoping to match, in any order, six randomly selected numbers. Each game costs but a mere buck. If no one matches all six numbers, the jackpot continues to grow each week until a winner emerges.

Chances of your ticket winning the big jackpot? Three point eight million to one. Tickets are selling faster than authentic Michael Jackson souvenirs.

real enemy, so you do the safe thing — you come after me because you think that I am an easy target. These are the actions of a coward.

I consider it unfortunate that you are in such an influential position in our community. In case you are interested, the real enemy is the radical rich and ultra-liberal establishment which cannot control crime, immigration, Federal spending and the job market.

Asset to Sumpter

To the Editor:

I recently had an occasion to work with the Sumpter Township Board. In order to acquaint the board members with a pending proposal I had placed before the board, I invited the members to visit a facility in Mason, Michigan that was being used as a model for the work I will be constructing in Sumpter Township.

The board agreed (with one exception) to visit the Mason facility on June 27th. Upon our return from the tour, the board, in special session, granted my request to approve the Sumpter site.

I would like to commend the Sumpter Board members who took the time to make the tour. The gentlemen impressed me with their concern for Sumpter residents and their dedication to getting all the facts before making a decision. It is regrettable that the approval of my proposal by the board has become a political issue in the upcoming elections.

The members who voted to approve my proposal are being accused of letting a "junkyard" into the township. This charge is both untrue and undeserved.

It is deplorable that when sincere people do their duty and even go the extra mile to protect their constituents, there are still those who would seize the occasion to make false accusations for political gain. I know that when the work in Sumpter Township is complete, the community will have acquired a new business that will contribute its share of taxes and act as a good neighbor and asset to Sumpter residents.

What hypocrisy!

To the Editor:

The idea of a park in Belleville has merit only if the property can be obtained with the approval of the property owner.

The idea of eminent domain is an obscenity based on the idea that "The greatest good for the greatest number" has the public good in mind.

We stop dams being built because of a fish that no one gives a Tinkers dam about, build roads around a tree that probably isn't any good even for lumber. Then we trample on individual rights in the name of eminent domain. What hypocrisy!

'Job well done'

To the Editor:

I would like to take this time to applaud Mr. George Brown and the Belleville, Sumpter and Van Buren Little League Association for a "Great Job Well Done" in hosting the State National Junior Major Ball Tournament. I hope I got that right "George".

Your association did a great job and as one of the Foster Parents, my husband and I had a great time and it was an experience we will never forget. We had the great opportunity to house the boys of the winning team that took the State Championship and we took them to the Tiger Game and I will never forget the look on their faces when the whole team and their parents, the ones that were here, found out that they were actually going to the Tiger Game.

These boys were about 440 miles from home and might never get a chance to do this again and it was a pleasure to be able to be a part of this whole event.

Thanks again for you and your organization to let us be a part of it and keep up the good work.

Homes for pets

To the Editor:

Please accept our sincerest thanks for your decision to run an adopt-a-pet column twice a month in your newspapers.

One of the big problems faced by the Michigan Humane Society is making the public aware of the fact we have a number of fine pets waiting for a loving home. Most people think of the shelter as a place to rid themselves of a problem, by giving up an unwanted animal.

Your efforts to show your readers that the Michigan Humane Society does, in fact, have a number of nice pets available for adoption.

The response to the photographs run in your papers already has been terrific. Animals other than the ones pictured have also been adopted by your readers.

Your kindness in doing this as a regular feature is most appreciated, not only by we the staff, but more importantly, appreciated by the many homeless animals whose life will be spent in a good, loving, home.

Lotto loot

Given Lotto's track record of success and the interest of other states in joining in on the bonanza, Carr foresees a conceivable $100 million jackpot someday, especially in a populous state like California.

In case one is worried about the tax implications connected with cashing in on a few million, it should be noted that prizes are exempt from state and local taxes. The federal government, however, does get involved to the tune of 20 percent on all prizes exceeding $5,000. And winnings greater than $50,000 are paid in annual installments of up to 20 years.

"We're vying for the entertainment dollar," Carr said. "People would rather play a legal game that doesn't involve skill or knowledge. The lottery has been successful because we've been able to maintain the integrity of the lottery and the fact that everyone has an equal chance."

"The lottery is competitive with the illegal games. We want to hurt these games as much as possible."

Since 1981, lottery profits have been specifically earmarked for the state school aid fund rather than the general fund, a fact that obviously has met with general satisfaction. At least now taxpayers are aware of where their bucks are headed.

Oh yes, there have been 61 millionaires created through the state lottery, established in 1972. Lotto will add significantly to that number. State coffers will grow. Lottery dealers will prosper. Everyone goes home happy but the racketeers.

Maybe we can develop a lottery to assist in supplementing property taxes or income taxes. Then a lottery to fund the cost of state government. And a lottery for the needy, the homeless, the unemployed. One ticket, please. Today may be my lucky day.

"We did $297,635 in Lotto business the first day," revealed Lottery Commissioner Michael Carr. "Based on what has happened in other states, the game starts slowly and as awareness increases so does the volume. We had figured on $150,000 to $200,000 the first day."

Carr was hired last year by Gov. Blanchard to keep the state lottery business profitable. He's done an admirable job.

- Last year lottery games generated $549 million. Here's how the lucrative pie was divided:
- $270 million for player winnings.
- $221 million for the state school aid fund (18 percent of the total budget.)
- 35 million for the approximately 7,000 lottery agents across the state who earn six percent commission on gross sales.
- $23 million for administrative costs. The lottery bureau employs some 175 persons; Carr earns an annual salary of $53,500 ("I would love to make a percentage of the gross," he laughs, "but I'm not even allowed to play any of the games.")

All of these figures, however, are BL (Before Lotto). Lotto should add another $166 million to the coffers during its initial year, according to lottery projections.

To date the game is played in 10 states and the District of Columbia and the jackpots are making headlines . . . $24.8 million split by eight people in Ohio . . . an $18 million winner in New York . . .

"I want to achieve $1 billion in gross sales," Carr said, noting that Michigan presently ranks seventh among 17 states in lottery dollars. Of course, again that's BL. "That's within striking distance in a couple years."

tion they deserve for their demonstrated strength and courage in the line of duty, they would be less uptight about conveying the message of their value to us.

Both fire fighters and police officers volunteer time to numerous community projects to subtly convey to the public the vital role they play in saving lives as well as preserving our way of life. They are to be applauded for their efforts.

But far more than that, they deserve our respect, cooperation and support. Yes, we deserve their courtesy, compassion and assistance.

Recognize that they grow weary from the battles they fight in society's wars. The trauma they experience — of being subjected to abuse, risk, threats, danger, illness, injury and death should buy them a lot of our understanding and consideration.

They are truly, men and women alike, heroes of our time.

Sports and politics

Tom Mooradian
Sports Editor

Don Domke learned the hard way that you don't mix politics with sports.

Domke, the former Westland John Glenn athletic director who has spent nearly 30 years in local sports and athletics, accepted an "interim" position as the City of Westland's parks and recreation director until "the city found a permanent man to do the job."

"I was retired and happy when I was approached to help out in that department (recreation) until a permanent director was found.

"And I was very happy to oblige," Domke added. "But apparently some of the members of council viewed this appointment politically and best friends, suddenly turned their backs on me.

"I really don't understand. Does a person become 'different' just because someone appoints him to an office? You couldn't believe some of the things they said."

Domke didn't want to elaborate, but he felt that when "you invite someone into your home, you don't proceed to pull the carpet from beneath his feet."

Domke helped organize the numerous recreation programs in Wayne and was one of the top area coaches before he became a full-time athletic director of Westland John Glenn in 1964. He decided to retire in 1982 and was lured out of retirement to fill a void when Westland City Council refused to confirm Mayor Chuck Pickering's appointment, Michael Mushett, to that post last September.

Times have changed, council has now put its stamp of approval on the Mushett appointment.

Michael Mushett, who has earned international acclaim for his work with the disabled and was the executive director of the International Games for the Disabled staged recently in New York, has returned.

In triumph. Football is "king" again.

And, next week, The Associated Newspapers will present its 25th annual high school football previews, highlighting local teams and coaches.

We hope you don't miss this special edition.

But there is more going on than just football. Cross country, golf and girls' basketball coaches are invited to report their scores to the ANP sports desk on Fridays between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

The telephone number to call is 697-9191.

City-wide picnic planned for Earl Jones

Inkster awaits its Olympic hero

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Inkster awaits its Olympic hero, Earl Jones.

The 19-year-old Jones who captured a bronze medal in the 800-meter run at the Los Angeles-staged Olympiad will "receive a hero's welcome" when he returns from his trip to Europe, according to members of the Earl Jones "Welcome Home" committee.

Jones joined a group of Olympic medal winners to tour England after the Olympics. He is scheduled to return to the United States and to his home town of Inkster sometime next week.

"We don't know at present when he will touch down at Metropolitan Airport," said Lou Jackson, parks and recreation director. "but we have a huge city-wide picnic planned for him when he returns."

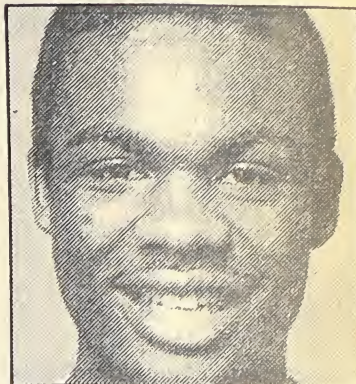

The picnic is slated for Sun., Sept. 16 at the Inkster Recreation Complex from 3 to 7 p.m.

"We have signs going up on the borders of the city that honor our first Olympic medalist," said Jackson. "Needless to say, we're all very proud of this young athlete."

Jones, a sophomore at Eastern Michigan University, finished third to Olympic champ, Joaquin Cruz of Brazil, and Sebastian Coe of Great Britain in the fastest 800-meter run ever recorded.

Cruz posted a 1:43.0 in winning the gold. He was followed across the finish line by Coe who claimed the silver medal for his 1:43.6 and Jones was clocked in a U.S. record time of 1:43.88.

Westlanders win net tourney titles

Westlander Patrick Lawson captured two first places at the fourth annual Inkster Parks and Recreation Open Tennis tournament held over the weekend.

Lawson easily disposed of Farmington Hills' Mark Thomas in the finals of the men's singles, 6-0 and 6-1, to claim his first trophy, but when he teamed with Ron Huddleston in the men's doubles the Westlanders found a Plymouth duo willing and ready.

Plymouth's Tom Fisher and his partner, Ed Fisher, won the first set 7-6, then Lawson and Huddleston rallied to a 6-1 victory in the second set, forcing the issue to a third and final set.

In the championship match, Lawson and Huddleston hung on to post a thrilling 7-5 victory.

In the women's doubles' competition, Carol Sullivan and Kathy Gunn had their problems in the first set against Sue Focht and Annette Osada who emerged atop a 6-2 decision. But Sullivan and Dunn then found the going easier than expected as they came back to win 6-0, 6-0.

In the mixed doubles, Betty Fesko and partner Tom Fisher, ran up against Lilianna Ramierz and Patrick Lawson. The Fesko-Fisher team survived 6-0, 6-7, and 7-0.

The junior netters also were busy as Tom Fesko turned back Dennis McCarthy of Dearborn Heights to capture the gold for the 17 and under category.

"It was truly an exciting tournament," noted James Baldwin, athletic supervisor who said that 75 local and area netters participated in the fourth annual tournament.

"We have been getting excellent response for this tournament," Baldwin said.

'The last hurrahs'

Last inning rally saves Romulus softball champ

It's all over in the Romulus Parks and Recreation Department softball leagues.

But, before the final hurrahs, Johnson-Smith, gave league-leading Precision Tune a scare in the men's Friday "A" Open Division before succumbing 8-7.

Precision rallied for three runs in the bottom of the seventh to pull out the victory.

Johnson's piled up 17 hits off of winner Don Staples who served up a homer and triple to Tracey Price. Dan Davidson collected three hits, including a triple, and Dave Petrich had three singles for the losers.

Davidson, charged with the loss, delivered a homer, double and single to Ron Staples. Dan Deihl had three singles for the winners who collected 16 hits.

Taylor A.C. rallied for a 10-6 victory over Middlebelt as Tom Guilfoyle paced the winners with four hits. He blasted a roundtripper, doubled and collected a pair of singles. Ed Crecheola had three RBIs and Steve Hodges belted three singles for the winners.

Middlebelt's Tom McKlosky turned in with two singles and two runs batted in.

Taylor A.C. buried Distron (1-12) as the victors erupted for 25 hits off of a pair of Distron hurlers, Steve Obremski, and Gary Galofaro. Tom Guilfoyle again led the winners, belting a couple of homers and double for five runs batted in. Steve Hodges and Ed Coecheola each had three hits and John Fargo drilled a pair of doubles while Dan Amann finished the day with three singles and a double.

Russ Barnett accounted for two of the loser's seven hits, allowed by winner Ron Bostwick.

Double Eagle emerged with its ninth win in 12 starts thanks to a 15-12 decision over Middlebelt and the "hot" bats of Ron Horvath who had four hits, including a pair of doubles; Dave Staten, who had three singles, and Steve Bird, who latched on to a pair of singles and three RBIs.

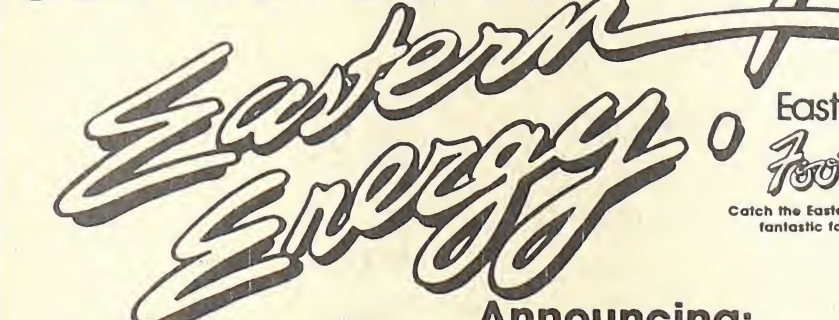

Winner Dave Staten gave up homers to Tery Magnason and Mike Miolus-zewski who also had a single. Gil Cox strung together three hits and three RBIs.

Johnson's erupted for six runs in the opening inning en route to a 13-5 victory over Distron as Kevin Johnson and Tracey Price each had a single, triple and two RBIs for the victors.

Winner Dan Davison delivered two hits to Ron Martin.

If their goal is to repeat as divisional champs, I see the road ahead very rocky for the Detroit Lions.

Last season, the Detroit Lions had their best year in many a moon. They finished 9-7, good enough to win the National Football Conference's, Central Division, considered by many the weakest division in pro football.

What lies ahead for the Detroiters this season? Second place. It looks that way to me unless they get their quarterback situation straightened out.

Despite Eric Hipple's problems, he did lead them, with help from backup Gary Danielson, to the division crown.

Now, all of a sudden Hipple is fourth string for some strange reason.

And Coach Monte Clark says, at least for the moment that Mike Machurek, who's been with the team for two seasons, without taking a snap is the No. 1 signal-caller. For this reason only, I'm picking Green Bay to win the division.

Unless, that is, Hipple is returned to No. 1 or Danielson. Nothing beats experience as far as quarterbacking goes. Here's how I see the division race:

No. 1 — Green Bay. New Coach Forrest Gregg built a strong defense at Cincinnati.

Tough road ahead for Lions

They led the league in defense last season. The Packers problem last season was defense. One of the worst, if not the worst defense in the N.F.L. They were just terrible against the run. If that changes this year, and I think it will, the Packers add at least two wins to their total (last year). The Pack has some of the best receivers around and a good enough QB in Lynn Dickey. Last season more than 40% of their pass attempts made first downs, best in the league.

Also they averaged almost eight yards per pass play. Also, best in the N.F.L. Also, the Packers scored 40 or more points four times last season, again best in the league. They will have to cut down on their interceptions (32. Tops in conference).

NO. 2 — Detroit. They have to solve the quarterback problem. Last season the Lions were one of the worst teams in passing yardage and touch-down passes. The receiver problem of a year ago should be solved with Rookie Tight End David Lewis and Rookie Wide Receiver Pete Mandley. The running game is one of the best with Billy Sims and James Jones. The defense is good enough as is the special teams. Could use improvement in the pass rush department. Last season, Detroit finished with a 7-1 mark in the division. Hard to improve on that. Also, they have a tougher schedule, and with their quarterback problem, it looks like second place.

NO. 3. Chicago. Finished strong a year ago, winning five of their last six games.

Great running attack. Led League. In fact, team was sixth in total offense but 20th in scoring. Quarterback Jim McMahon still is a question mark. Bears make too many mistakes. Coach Mike Ditka has to control his temper. Still it's a good young team.

NO. 5 — Minnesota. Coach Bud Grant held this team together for many years, getting the most out of a mediocre team. But has retired. His replacement Les Steckel has his work cut out for him. Offense is shaky. Weak at wide receiver. Strong defense. Over-all not a good team. No threat. Could have trouble beating out Tampa Bay.

NO. 6 — Tampa Bay. Collapsed last season to 2-14. Quarterback remains a real question mark.

Yuhas captures Burger King junior golf tourney title

With more than 100 golfers in the field, Craig Yuhas of Dearborn Heights fired a 32 for 9-holes to capture medalist honors at the annual Junior Golf Tournament.

The tournament is conducted by the Westland Parks and Recreation Department with the local Burger King Restaurant as co-sponsors.

Yuhas posted a 5-stroke victory over his nearest rival, Don Petre of Westland who turned in with a 37 for the second place trophy. Third in the 15-16 division was Wayne's Dan Radomski who was one stroke back.

Over in the 13-14 division, Livonia's Paul Straton carded a 37 at the Westland Municipal Golf Course for first place honors. He defeated Andy Kurnez and Craig Noonan of Westland by three strokes. Noonan and Kurbcz each had 40's.

Beth Ann Hall, who posted a 68, won the first place trophy in the 13-14 division for girls.

Westlander Kevin Bradford came in with a 41 to claim the first place trophy for the 11-12 year old boys. The runner-up slot was again tied, this time by Chris Taurianen and his brother, Mike, who both carried 45's into the clubhouse.

"It was a great tournament," said Craig Morton, tournament manager. "And we would like to thank Burger King for supplying the trophies and helping to put this meet on."

Burger King furnished the champion and runner-up trophies for each flight of boys and girls. The competition now in their fourth year, is open, by age group, to boys and girls, ages 11 through 16, who reside in the area.

In the meantime, Joel Williams, a 14-year-old Westland golfer, sank his first hole-in-one playing at the Westland Municipal Course last week.

Joel aced the 1560-yard 2nd hole, using a 5 iron. He carded a 35 for the 9 holes.
